A Fashion Magazine That's Sized To Fit

(NAPS)—There's a new magazine that is turning the heads of many of the 68 percent of America's women who wear size 12 or larger.

Grace* will provide full-figured women with realistic and useful style news and information that fits their lives.

Due to overwhelming interest, Grace magazine launched the premiere issue in Spring 2002, a full four months ahead of schedule.

"The mission of Grace is to be a 'style and resource guide' for full-figured women who want to live life to the fullest today!" said Grace Editor in Chief, Ceslie Armstrong. "We call it 'Full Fashioned'."

As Executive Editor of Mode, (the first glossy to speak directly to full-figured women, that is now out of print), Armstrong learned first-hand just how devoted and involved these women are. "They want style news and information they can't get anywhere else. They insist on it."

To this end, Grace embodies the "Full Fashioned" lifestyle with relevant information on everything from fashion, beauty and accessories to entertainment, travel, food, wine, home decorating, health and charitable giving ideas.
